In the Know

2010 ACS Estimates:

The American Cancer Society (ACS) estimated that in 2010, approximately 31,160 Missourians would be diagnosed with cancer and about 12,620 would die of cancer. Breast cancer was second to Lung and Bronchus with approximately 3,880 new cases. Breast cancer ranked third for mortality rates with an estimated 860 deaths in 2010.

CDC News:

According to an article published on March 10th, the number of cancer survivors in the U.S. is growing! There are nearly 12 million cancer survivors in the U.S. according to new statistics from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. About half of these had either breast, prostate, or colorectal cancer and more than half are women.

Obesity Prevents Screening:

A review of cancer screening studies shows that white women who are obese are less likely than healthy-weight women to get the recommended screenings for breast and cervical cancer, according to researchers at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill's School of Public Health. This trend was not observed in African American women.

Fresh Faces

Tina Lear joined the Show Me Healthy Women team in February 2011. She has a diverse background in the health field, including several years in hospital and clinical settings in various roles. Most recently, she worked for the state employees' health insurance plan. Tina will complete her Master of Health Administration in May. Her duties with SMHW will include development of informational materials, revising manuals, exhibiting at events, reviewing claims data, and collaborating with other programs.

Tina and her husband, Brian

Tina is married and has three children, ages 8, 5 and 9 months. She divides her free time between her daughter's pageantry, ballet and piano lessons, and her son's tee ball practice and games and horseback riding lessons. Her family loves to play board games, go camping, and attend St. Louis Cardinal ball games! Please join us in welcoming Tina to the SMHW team. You can contact her at 573.522.2841.
